Prisma Health Perinatal Conference

Friday, March 11, 2022, 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center, 1101 Lincoln St., Columbia, SC 29201

Program description

This one-day educational event is designed to provide new information, reinforce best practices, and introduce innovations that can positively affect maternal and neonatal outcomes, thus reducing premature birth, infant mortality and maternal morbidity. The goal of the conference is to provide education to healthcare professionals regarding innovative approaches to caring for those patients deemed high-risk based on co-morbidities, racial and economic disparities, and young age.
