Program description

This one-day educational event is designed to provide new information, reinforce best practices, and introduce innovations that can positively affect maternal and neonatal outcomes, thus reducing premature birth, infant mortality and maternal morbidity. The goal of the conference is to provide education to health care professionals regarding innovative approaches to caring for those patients deemed high-risk based on co-morbidities, racial and economic disparities, and young age.

Thanks to you, our Diaper Drive last year was a success with more than 43 packages of diapers donated! Statistics indicate that 1 in 3 families in America struggle to afford diapers. We will collect diapers at the conference again this year to be donated to a local diaper bank to "give back" to the community.
